

The Da Vinci Code : a novel

by Brown, Dan

Professor Robert Langdon is brought to Paris to shed some light on a bizarre murder in the Louvre. As he and sidekick cryptologist Neveu tries to decode the artistic riddles left at the scene, all of which are related to the works of Leonardo da Vinci, Dan Brown takes readers scrambling through the City of Love.

Rebecca

by Du Maurier, Daphne

The unnamed protagonist of this tale becomes the wife of a widowed, wealthy man, Mr. de Winter, and moves into the Manderly, his stately home. Rather than promising a peaceful and happy marriage, the grand house holds the shadow of the first Mrs. de Winter over the new lady, and threatens not just her happiness but her life.

Killing Floor

by Child, Lee

Jack Reacher gets arrested the moment he comes into the town of Margrave, for a murder he did not commit. As he tries to convince the detectives in charge of his innocence, Reacher initially only wants to get out of this mess and go on with his travels. The stakes, however, are raised when he found out that his own brother is somehow involved in the mystery.

The Woman In the Library : a novel

by Gentill, Sulari

On a quiet day in the reading room at the Boston Public Library, a scream shatters the calm. Security guards rush to investigate straight away, and they ask everyone else to remain where they are until they can figure out what happened. While stuck inside the reading room, four strangers who just happened to be sitting at the same table strike up a conversation. Each of them has their own reason for being in the reading room that day. And each of them has a secret. Is one of them a murderer?

The 7 1/2 deaths of Evelyn Hardcastle

by Turton, Stuart

Every day Evelyn Hardcastle will die. Every day until Aiden Bishop can identify her killer and break the cycle. But every time the day begins again, Aiden wakes up in the body of a different guest. And some of his hosts are more helpful than others.

The Mystery of Mrs. Christie : a novel

by Benedict, Marie

December 1926: England unleashes the largest manhunt in its history. The object of the search is up-and-coming mystery author Agatha Christie. When her car is found wrecked, empty, and abandoned near a natural spring, the country is in a frenzy. Eleven days later, Agatha reappears, claiming amnesia. She provides no answers for her disappearance. That is...until she writes a very strange book about a missing woman, a murderous husband, and a plan to expose the truth. What role did her unfaithful husband play? And what was he not telling investigators?

Along Came a Spider

by Patterson, James

Alex Cross is a homicide detective with a Ph.D. in psychology. He's a tough guy from a tough part of town who likes to relax playing Gershwin tunes on his baby grand piano. He also has two adorable kids.

Jezzie Flanagan is the first woman ever to hold the job as supervisor of the Secret Service in Washington. Blond, mysterious, seductive, she's got an outer shell that's as tough as it is beautiful. Alex and Jezzie are about to have a forbidden love affair-at the worst possible time for both of them. Gary Soneji has outsmarted the FBI, the Secret Service, and the police. Who will be his next victim?

MYSTERY

springville library

LIKE TWISTS AND TURNS?

The Last House On the Street

by Chamberlain, Diane

Kayla Carter's and her husband are building their dream house in Shadow Ridge Estates in North Carolina when he is killed in an accident. Now, an older woman is warning Kayla not to move in. What is going on in this neighborhood? And might the house at the end of the street hold the key to the neighbor's secrets and what happened to Kayla's husband?

The Paris Apartment : a novel

by Foley, Lucy

Looking for a fresh start, Jess jets off to Paris to stay with her half-brother Ben. When Jess shows up in Paris, however, she finds Ben's apartment is nicer than anything she'd imagined he'd be able to afford. And also he's not there. The longer he's missing, the more Jess starts investigating Ben's situation in Paris, his neighbors, his lifestyle, and where he could be.

The Verifiers

by Pek, Jane

Claudia loves mystery novels, wrote her senior thesis on Jane Austen, and she believes she's landed her ideal job. She's just been recruited by Veracity, a referral-only online dating detective agency. But when one of the agency's clients goes missing, Claudia finds herself breaking the rules to dive deep into the secret world of people's online lives and corporate deceit.

The It Girl

by Ware, Ruth

April was the first person Hannah Jones met at Oxford University. April was one of those women that people are just naturally drawn to. She was the ultimate 'It girl', and Hannah was lucky enough to be a part of her inner circle. By the end of their second term, April was dead. Ten years have passed and the man convicted of killing April has died in prison. However, just when Hannah thinks the past is behind her, a young journalist presents new evidence that suggests he may have been innocent. Wanting to know the truth about what happened to April, Hannah reconnects with old friends. Could one of them be capable of murder?

Find Me : a novel

by Burke, Alafair

Hope Miller was in an accident 15 years ago and lost her memory. When Hope goes missing, her best friend Lindsay fears the worst. Especially when the only lead is a drop of blood found where Hope was last seen that matches a DNA sample with a connection to a notorious Kansas murderer. To find her, Lindsay turns to NYPD Homicide detective Ellie Hatcher, whose father dedicated his life to hunting the Kansas killer. Together, these women will uncover secrets of their past.

The Sweetness At the Bottom of the Pie

by Bradley, C. Alan

Flavia is an intuitive 11-year-old whose father is accused of murder. A stranger has ended up dead in the family's yard, one who happened to have been seen arguing with Flavia's dad days before. Determined that her stamp-loving father, who has been heart-broken since the death of his wife, would never kill anyone, Flavia tours the town to try and prove his innocence.

And Then There Were None

by Christie, Agatha

The story follows ten people who are brought together, for various reasons, to an empty mansion on an island. The mysterious hosts are not present, but have left instructions. As the days unfold in accordance with the lyrics of a nursery rhyme, each invitee is forced to face the music and bear the consequences of their troubling pasts, as death will come for them one by one.

The Girl On the Train

by Hawkins, Paula

Rachel Watson takes a train from her home into the city center everyday, and to kill the time, she often spends much of it looking at the same houses that pass by her. She makes up stories for the lives she observes, stories that are better than her own, free of divorce and alcoholism. One day, she witnesses something that turns Rachel from a mere observer of the lives of this particular street to an active participant in it.

In the Woods

by French, Tana

In the woody outskirts of Ireland, a 12-year-old girl is found dead. Two detectives, Rob and Cassie, are assigned the case, and the case reminds Rob of the mystery that haunted his childhood — a mystery which happened in these same woods. As they make their way through the crime scene Rob's past keeps coming back to him, begging the question of whether it is related to this sad event.

The Woman In White

by Collins, Wilkie

This book first appears to be a simple story of two star-crossed lovers — Walter Hartright and Laura Fairlie — who weren't meant to be together. Laura was betrothed to Sir Percival Glyde and yet she was mysteriously warned not to proceed with the marriage. Meanwhile, the city is gripped by the story of a strange woman clad in white who's roaming its dark streets.